

Avocado dreams

avocado apple pear? - carrot soy no soy

Sometimes you hurt someone. By accident. The togetherness seduced you. You look at the one you love and you see the pain. There is no taking it back. Everything you did and said is lying naked before you. The earth is shaking and you don't know whether you can trust it to keep on turning.

These are the moments for avocado dreams. The taste is so smooth and subtle that everything falls still. It causes the stillness of your senses and soothes every fear.
